² Membership requires ratification of the Chemical Weapons Convention.
